Putting Evidence to Work: A school's guide to Implementation

Free Twilight Session

Funded through the OA and delivered by Stu Mathers, EEF on behalf of the North Yorkshire Coast Research School

Based on the EEF's guidance and rooted in the latest research this free, bite sized session takes you through the EEFs Guidance report, A School's Guide to Implementation

Why take part in this programme?

Teachers and school leaders will find the guide useful in developing a better understanding of how to make practical changes to their classroom practice, as well as their role in supporting departmental or whole school changes.

Who should take part?

Suitable for anyone supporting change, who would like support with planning implementation

This is a bite size session. For those who wish to develop greater depth, we are offering a more detailed programme for senior leaders - contact admin@settrington.n-yorks for more information
